

“ Promotional products are just a bunch of junk.

They are nothing more than glossy pieces of garbage. ”

We know exactly why people say this...

it's because when someone uses promotional products,
people usually trivialize and even generalize their value.
Words like “cheap” and “Made in China” come to mind.

We've heard it said about our business...

“Why would he and his wife make promotional products?
What a total waste of time. I would never do that. There are so many trinkets and nick-knacks out there in the marketplace that they COMPLETELY lost their impact long ago.”

Here's why we're in this business:

We make promotional products because your businesses' name and logo isn't graffiti to us. Rather, your businesses' seal, on one of our products, has the force of your very own signature...in your handwriting.

That's why we mark promotional products. Because your emblem not only indicates your commercial power, but it also points to ownership, of your business. Hey, around here even our thriving little promotions business is a kind of symbol of your businesses' presence...
